Driving Data to Add Value for Customers

Helping top brokerage firms leverage buyer data to generate and capture seller leads, win more listings and close more transaction sides in-house.

The Challenge

The Hunt Real Estate ERA team, representing over 1,300 agents in 40+ offices across Western and Upstate NY, wanted to ensure its agents remained industry leaders and a step ahead of others in serving clients.

Partnering with Percy, the Hunt team aimed to give home sellers more real-time data about their property and bring together multiple data sources to connect them with prospective buyers.

The Process

- Implement Percy's Home Valuation Site on their brokerage website and individual agent sites.
- Include Percy's Buyer Market Analysis in agent listing presentations to demonstrate the number of buyers that their brokerage is working with who are looking for homes similar to theirs - making it clear there is high demand for their property.
- Leverage modern marketing strategies to convert leads to listings at around 10%; focused training efforts to help agents follow up, both quickly and often, using Percy's Market Insights.

The Outcome

- 18,984
Seller Leads
- 1,947

- 1,830

- $508M

“ I would defy any system to show me better data in terms of bottom line results. ”
